AUTHOR INDEX

ADAMS, L. H. *The effect of pressure on the magnetic inversion point in iron and other materials. 279.

ALICATA, JOSEPH E. A new trematode, Acanthatrium eptesici, from the brown bat. 271.

ALLEN, E. T. *Geysers. 314.

ALLEN, WILLIAM F. Formatio reticularis and reticulospinal tracts, their visceral functions and possible relationships to tonicity and clonic contractions. 490.

ANDERSON, ROBERT VAN V. *Geology in the coast ranges of Western Algeria. 289.

BALL, E. D. New genera and species of leafhoppers related to Scaphoideus. 9.

BARBER, H. G. A new species of Rhodnius from Panama (Hemiptera: Reduviidae). 514.

BARRETT, C. S. *Imperfection in crystals. 285.

BARTRAM, EDWIN B. Mosses of Northern Guatemala and British Honduras. 476.

BARTSCH, PAUL. A new land shell of the genus Rhiostoma from Siam. 69.

—— The tree snails of the genus Cochlostyla of Mindoro Province, Philippine Islands. 335.

BELL, W. B. *Symposium on the effects of drought upon plant and animal life. Insects. 189.

BERRY, EDWARD W. A new Drepanolepis from Alaska. 217.

——A new Oak (Quercus perpleza) from the Miocene of the western United States. 171.

—— A new palm from the upper Eocene of Ecuador. 327.

—— A sterculiaceous fruit from the lower Eocene (?) of Colorado. 119.

—— Fossil stipules of Platanus. 413.

BERRY, WILLARD. The larger Foraminifera of the Talara shale of Northwestern Peru. 1.

BITTINGER, CHARLES. *Color. 281.

BLAKE, S. F. New Central American Asteraceae collected by H. H. Bartlett. 379.

BRADLEY, W. H. *Erosion surfaces on the north flank of the Uinta Mountains. 318.

BRADY, M. K. *Symposium on the effects of drought upon plant and animal life. Amphibians. 189.

BRAUNLICH, M. W. *The contact accelerometer as a starting device for use with a strong earthquake accelerometer. 287.

BRICKWEDDE, F. G. *A hydrogen isotope of mass 2 and its concentration. 520.

BRYANT, H. C. *National parks as sanctuaries for wild life. 190.

BUHRER, EDNA M. The male of the nematode species, Neotylenchus abulbosus Steiner, and its sexual dimorphism. 482.

BURBANK, W. S. *Relation of Cretaceous and early Tertiary igneous intrusion to structure in Colorado. 459.

CAMPBELL, MARIUS R. *The alluvial fan of Potomac River. 313.

CHAPIN, EDWARD A. Strategus simson L. and related West Indian species (Coleoptera: Scarabaeidae). 449.

CHRISTENSEN, CARL. A new Dryopteris from Cuba. 166.

CLOOS, ERNST. *Is the Sierra Nevada batholith a batholith? 319.

COBB, N. A. Metoncholaimus pristiurus (zur Strassen); a nema suitable for use in laboratory courses in zoology. 344.

—— Nematosis of a grass of the genus Cynodon caused by a new nema of the genus Tylenchus Bast. 243.

COLE, W. STORRS. A new species of Lepidocyclina from the Panama Canal Zone. 510.

COLWELL, F. L. *Some properties of foreign and domestic micas. 280.

COOKE, C. WYTHE. Tentative correlation of American glacial chronology with the marine time scale. 310.

COOPER, G. A. *A new accent in paleontology. 457.

CRITTENDEN, E. C. *The Faraday Centenary Celebration in Great Britain. 355.

CURTIS, HARVEY L. The determination of the electrical units by mechanical measurements. 193.

DACHNOWSKI-STOKES, A. P. The classification of peat soils. 50.

DANE, C. H. Notes on the Puerco and Torrejon formations, San Juan Basin, New Mexico. 406.

DARTON, N. H. *Some Algonkian strata in Arizona and adjoining regions. 319.

DICKINSON, H. C. *Scientific automobilia. 278.

DORSETT, P. H. *Interesting features of the Chinese "Ching-Ma." 555.

—— *Open air winter forcing of strawberries in Japan. 555.

DRECHSLER, CHARLES. A species of Pythiogeton isolated from decaying leaf-sheaths of the common cat-tail. 421.

DRYDEN, A. L. Faults and joints in the Coastal Plain of Maryland. 469.

DRYDEN, H. L. *Motion pictures of the flow of air and of the travel of sound waves (Japanese highspeed movies). 281.

ELLIS, M. M. *Biological aspects of the inland river situation. 188.

FLINT, L. H. Hydration of the solute ions of the lighter elements. 97.

—— The hydration of the solute ions of the heavier elements. 211.

—— Unhydrated solute element ions. 233.

FRIEDMAN, HERBERT. *Social weavers of South Africa. 190.

GALTSOFF, PAUL S. Spawning reactions of three species of oysters. 65.

—— The life in the ocean from a biochemical point of view. 246.

GOLDMAN, E. A. A new coati from Nicaragua. 312.

—— A new pocket mouse from southern Arizona. 488.

—— A new squirrel from Honduras. 274.

—— Two new cacomistles from Mexico, with remarks on the genus Jentinkia. 484.

—— Two new pocket mice from Arizona. 386.

GREEN, J. W. *A photographic method of changing the ratio of ordinate-scale to abscissa-scale. 280.

—— *The effect of pressure on the magnetic inversion point in iron and other materials. 279.

GUNN, ROSS. *The evolutionary origin of the solar system. 521.

HALL, E. L. *Some properties of foreign and domestic micas. 280.

HARRIS, F. K. *Application of the cathode-ray oscillograph. 524.

HARRISON, GEORGE J. Arizona plants. (Further additions to the recorded flora of the state, with notes on the characters and geographical distribution of these and other species). 224.

HECK, N. H. *Background and history of investigation of strong earthquake motions. 286.

HENDRICKS, S. B. *Group motions in solid molecular and ionic compounds. 285.
HEYL, P. R. *Cause or chance? 525.
—— *The prospective of modern physics. 282.
HILL, JAMES M. *A problem of beryllium ores. 290.
HILDEBRAND, SAMUEL F. On a new Cyprinoid from South Dakota. 257.
HOFFMANN, I. N. *Natural features in Washington city parks. 190.
HOPKINS, B. S. The scientific work of Charles James. 21.
HOWE, MARSHALL A. Marine algae from the islands of Panay and Negros (Philippines) and Niuafoou (between Samoa and Fiji). 167.
HUMPHREYS, W. J. *If Greenland's ice should melt. 528.
—— *The colder the air the thinner the ice. 522.
HUNT, CHAS. B. *The junction of three orogenic types in New Mexico. 315.
HULBURT, E. O. *The temperature of the lower atmosphere. 519.
HUTCHINS, LEE M. *Phony Peach: Some new departures in a virus disease. 557.
HYSLOP, J. A. *Symposium on the effects of drought upon plant and animal life. Insects. 189.
IVES, J. E. *The physicist in public health work. 525.
IYER, K. R. N. Synthesis of a humus-nucleus, an important constituent of humus in soils, peats, and composts. 41.
JOHNSTON, W. D. JR. A revision of physical divisions of northern Alabama. 220.
—— Geothermal gradient at Grass Valley, California. 267.
—— Geothermal gradient of the Mother Lode belt, California: A reply. 390.
—— *Structure of the Grass Valley batholith, California. 317.
KEARNEY, THOMAS H. Arizona plants. (Further additions to the recorded flora of the state, with notes on the characters and geographical distribution of these and other species). 224.
KEITH, ARTHUR. Stratigraphy and structure of Northwestern Vermont.—I: 357. II: 393.
KENNELLY, ARTHUR E. The work of Joseph Henry in relation to applied science and engineering. 293.
KEW, W. S. W. *Tertiary and Pleistocene deposits of the San Pedro Hills, California. 39.
KILLIP, ELLSWORTH P. Five new species of Bomarea from Peru. 59.
KIMBALL, H. H. *Solar radiation as a meteorological factor. 527.
KING, PHILIP B. *Permian limestone reefs in the Van Horn region of Texas. 288.
KNIGHT, J. BROOKES. Holopea symmetrica Hall, genotype of Holopea Hall. 473.
KNOPF, ADOLPH. Geothermal gradient of the Mother Lode belt, California. 389.
KOSCHMANN, A. H. *Dissected pediments in the Magdalena district, New Mexico. 314.
LADD, H. S. *The Melanesian Continent. 418.
LANGE, JAKOB E. *Comparative studies of European and American species of mushrooms and toadstools. 554.
LEONARD, E. C. The genus Sanchezia in Peru. 125.
LEWIS, A. B. *A clock-controlled constant-frequency generator. 284.
—— *Some properties of foreign and domestic micas. 280.
LONGLEY, W. H. *The law of organic evolution and its place among the laws of kinetic systems. 276.
LOTKA, ALFRED J. The growth of mixed populations: Two species competing for a common food supply. 461.
LOUGHLIN, G. F. *Dissected pediments in the Magdalena district, New Mexico. 314.
—— *The results of recent geologic work at Cripple Creek, Colorado. 416.
LUCAS, C. R. *Symposium on the effects of drought upon plant and animal life. Birds and mammals. 189.
MANSFIELD, G. R. *Further developments in the geology of southeastern Idaho. 291.
MANSFIELD, WENDELL C. Faunal zones in the Miocene Choctawhatchee formation of Florida. 84.

MARMER, H. A. *The determination of mean sea level. 38.

MARSH, C. DWIGHT. A new species of Cyclops from the Philippine Islands. 182.

MARTIN, G. W. New species of slime molds. 88.

MCCOMB, H. E. *An automatic-starting recorder with motor-clock drive for use with accelerometers. 288.

MCREYNOLDS, WM. H. Some aspects of the classification of professional and scientific positions. 321.

MEHL, R. F. *Radiography with gamma rays. 279.

MINER, ERNEST LAVON. Megaspores ascribed to Selaginellites, from the Upper Cretaceous coals of Western Greenland. 497.

MOHLER, F. L. *Temperature variations of the absorption of metallic silver. 520.

MORTON, C. V. A new species of Adenostegia from Death Valley, with notes on calyx structure in the genus. 160.

—— A new species of Hymenophyllum from Peru. 63.

MUESEBECK, C. F. W. Four new North American species of Bassus Fabricius (Hymenoptera: Braconidae), with notes on the genotype. 329.

NELSON, E. W. Two new cacomistles from Mexico, with remarks on the genus Jentinkia. 484.

NELSON, WILBUR. *The Rockfish conglomerate. 456.

NUTTING, P. G. The solution and colloidal dispersion of minerals in water. 261.

PAIGE, SIDNEY. *The origin of the Vredefort dome. 417.

PALMER, T. S. *Meeting in honor of the anniversary of William Henry Flower (1831–1899). 190.

—— *The 49th Annual Meeting of the American Ornithologists' Union at Detroit, and the recent Audubon Society Meeting. 188.

PARKHURST, D. L. *Automatic electric recorders. 288.

PETERS, W. J. *A photographic method of changing the ratio of ordinate-scale to abscissa-scale. 280.

PHILLIPS, MAX. Lignin-like complexes in fungi. 237.

PIERCE, W. G. *Small folds produced by slumping in southeastern Montana. 38.

PITTIER, H. Studies in Solanaceae.—I. The species of Cestrum collected in Venezuela up to 1930. 25.

PONTON, GERALD M. Faunal zones in the Miocene Choctawhatchee formation of Florida. 84.

RADCLIFFE, LOUIS. *A recent trip through the Upper Mississippi River Wild Life and Fish Refuge. 188.

RAPER, KENNETH B. The distribution of Dictyostelium and other slime molds in soil. 92.

RATHBUN, MARY J. A new Pinnotherid crab from the Hawaiian Islands. 181.

—— A new species of Cancer from the Pliocene of the Los Angeles basin. 19.

—— Fossil Pinnotherids from the California Miocene. 411.

—— New species of fossil Raninidae from Oregon. 239.

REID, HARRY FIELDING. *Glacier Bay 40 years ago. 419.

RICHARDS, HORACE. *Biological studies on the New Jersey coast. 191.

ROESER, WM. F. *Reference curves for use with thermocouples. 526.

RUBEY, W. W. *Alluvial islands: their origin and effect upon stream regimen. 458.

SCHALLER, W. T. *The crystal cavities of the New Jersey zeolite region. 316.

SCHAUS, W. New species of Sphingidae and Saturniidae in the U. S. National Museum. 137.

SCHMITT, WALDO L. A new species of Pasiphaea from the Straits of Magellan. 333.

SHOEMAKER, CLARENCE R. A new amphipod of the genus Leptocheirus from Chesapeake Bay. 548.

—— Notes on Talorchestia fritzi Stebbing. 184.

SILSBEE, F. B. *Composite coil instruments for precise a.c. measurements. 283.

STEINER, G. Annotations on the nomenclature of some plant parasitic nematodes. 517.

STEINER, G. The male of the nematode species, Neotylenchus abulbosus Steiner, and its sexual dimorphism. 482.

STEVENS, R. E. Hydrogen-ion concentrations caused by the solution of silicate minerals. 540.

SUYEHIRO, J. *Engineering aspects of earthquake research in Japan. 71.

THOM, CHARLES. Lignin-like complexes in fungi. 237.

—— The distribution of Dictyostelium and other slime molds in soil. 92.

TRASK, PARKER D. *Relation of calcium carbonate content of sediments to salinity of the surface water. 316.

TUCKERMAN, L. B. *On the value of the cosmical constant. 285.

VAN ORSTRAND, C. E. On the flow of heat from a rock stratum in which heat is being generated. 529.

VAUGHAN, THOMAS WAYLAND. A new species of Lepidocyclina from the Panama Canal Zone. 510.

—— Antillophyllia, a new coral generic name. 506.

WAITE, M. B. *Symposium on the effects of drought upon plant and animal life. Plants. 188.

WAKSMAN, SELMAN A. Synthesis of a humus-nucleus; an important constituent of humus in soils, peats and composts. 41.

WALLIS, W. F. *The geographical distribution of magnetic disturbances. 278.

WATSON, D. L. *Biological organization as a physico-chemical problem. 522.

WENNER, FRANK. *Development of accelerometers at the Bureau of Standards. 286.

WHEELER, MARGARET. On the application of Appell's equations. 153.

WHITE, W. P. *The insulation of thermels and other points of thermel technique. 283.

WINSOR, CHARLES P. A comparison of certain symmetrical growth curves. 73.

WOODRING, W. P. *Tertiary and Pleistocene deposits of the San Pedro Hills, California. 39.

Personnel Administration. Some aspects of the classification of professional and scientific positions. Wm. J. McReynolds. 321.
Physical Chemistry. *Group motions in solid molecular and ionic compounds. S. B. Hendricks. 285.
Physical Geography. The classification of peat soils. A. P. Dachnowski-Stokes. 50.
Physics. *A clock-controlled constant-frequency generator. A. B. Lewis. 284.
*A hydrogen isotope of mass 2 and its concentration. F. G. Brickwedde. 520.
*An automatic-starting recorder with motor-clock drive for use with accelerometers. H. E. McComb. 288.
*A photographic method of changing the ratio of ordinate-scale to abscissa-scale. W. J. Peters and J. W. Green. 280.
*Application of the cathode-ray oscillograph. F. K. Harris. 524.
*Automatic electric recorders. D. L. Parkhurst. 288.
*Cause or chance? P. R. Heyl. 525.
*Color. Charles Bittinger. 281.
*Composite coil instruments for precise a.c. measurements. F. B. Silsbee. 283.
*Development of accelerometers at the Bureau of Standards. Frank Wenner. 286.
*Group motions in solid molecular and ionic compounds. S. B. Hendricks. 285.

*Imperfection in crystals. C. S. BARRETT. 285.

*Motion pictures of the flow of air and of the travel of sound waves (Japanese highspeed movies). H. L. DRYDEN. 281.

On the application of Appell's equations. MARGARET WHEELER. 153.

*On the value of the cosmical constant. L. B. TUCKERMAN. 285.

*Radiography with gamma rays. R. F. MEHL. 279.

*Reference curves for use with thermocouples. WM. F. ROESER. 526.

*Some properties of foreign and domestic micas. A. B. LEWIS, E. L. HALL, and F. L. COLWELL. 280.

*Temperature variations of the absorption of metallic silver. F. L. MOHLER. 520.

*The contact accelerometer as a starting device for use with a strong earthquake accelerometer. M. W. BRAUNLICH. 287.

The determination of the electrical units by mechanical measurements. HARVEY L. CURTIS. 193.

*The effect of pressure on the magnetic inversion point in iron and other materials. J. W. GREEN and L. H. ADAMS. 279.

*The Faraday Centenary celebration in Great Britain. E. C. CRITTENDEN. 355.

*The insulation of thermels and other points of thermel technique. W. P. WHITE. 283.

*The prospective of modern physics. P. R. HEYL. 282.

Zoology. A new amphipod of the genus Leptocheirus from Chesapeake Bay. 548.

A new Pinnotherid crab from the Hawaiian Islands. MARY J. RATHBUN. 181.

A new species of Cyclops from the Philippine Islands. C. DWIGHT MARSH. 182.

A new species of Pasiphaea from the Straits of Magellan. WALDO L. SCHMITT. 333.

A new trematode, Acanthatrium eptesici, from the brown bat. JOSEPH E. ALICATA. 271.

Annotations on the nomenclature of some plant parasitic nematodes. G. STEINER. 517.

Metoncholaimus pristiurus (zur Strassen); a nema suitable for use in laboratory courses in zoology. N. A. COBB. 344.

Nematosis of a grass of the genus Cynodon caused by a new nema of the genus Tylenchus Bast. N. A. COBB. 243.

Notes on Talorchestia fritzi Stebbing. CLARENCE R. SHOEMAKER. 184.

On a new Cyprinoid from South Dakota. SAMUEL F. HILDEBRAND. 257.

Spawning reactions of three species of oysters. P. S. GALTSOFF. 65.

The life in the ocean from a biochemical point of view. PAUL S. GALTSOFF. 246.

The male of the nematode species, Neotylenchus abulbosus Steiner, and its sexual dimorphism. G. STEINER and EDNA M. BUHRER. 482.
